Mike Brandon is an American singer, songwriter, and recording artist based in Oxford, Connecticut. His childhood love of rock and blues prompted him to start a band with his friends called Gravyhound. Over the years the band has progressed to what is now the Mike Brandon Band. One thing that remains the same is the bluesy sound and his talent for song writing.

The Mike Brandon Band is known for their ability to bring a high octane slice of energy to their shows. The band is well known for their renditions of various artists through the decades including their own originals.

The band has been fortunate to welcome some of the most talented musical guests for their live shows and recordings. Over the years the evolution of artists and their instruments have added to the distinctive sound of the Mike Brandon Band.

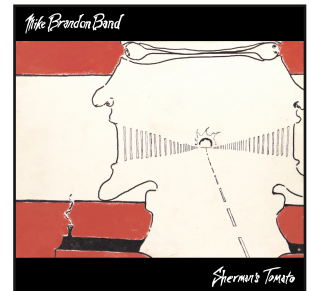

The Mike Brandon Band has a knack for keeping the audience engaged and if anyone shares the same energy of the Mike Brandon Band its their ardent and loyal fans. The band has a reputation for its dependability and loyalty to their audience.

“The Mike Brandon Band is a talented group for certain; having the skills to mix different rock genres as smoothly as they do is nothing short of astonishing.”

Kelsey, Phantom Angel Review

“Formerly known as Gravyhound, [The Mike Brandon Band] project evolved into something different, particularly to Mike’s charismatic nature as a frontman and his love for high-energy performances and honest lyrics. The band sharpened their teeth performing songs by acts such as Tom Petty, SRV or Lynyrd Skynyrd, giving their sound a deeper feel and a very exciting attitude, keeping the energy to the max.”
